

James Gamblin

Associate

Queen's Marquee

600-1741 Lower Water Street

Halifax, N.S.

B3J 0J2

Phone: +1.902.444.8803

Fax: +1.902.420.1417

jgamblin@stewartmckelvey.com

Language(s) spoken: English

Bar Admission(s): Nova Scotia, 2020

Legal Assistant(s): Kayte-Lynn Pearcey

Jamie's strong work ethic, can-do attitude and attention to detail allow him to work effectively to address his clients' needs. Jamie prides himself on his ability to harness innovative tools to work efficiently to advance client goals.

Practice Areas

Banking & Financing

Commercial Transactions/Agreements

Energy

Mergers & Acquisitions

Real Property

Securities

Education & Career

Education

Dalhousie University Schulich School of Law, JD, 2019

Concordia University, MA Public Policy and Public Administration, 2015

Mount Allison University, BA (Honours), 2012

Activities

Editor-in-Chief, Dalhousie Journal of Legal Studies, 2018 – 2019
Managing Editor, Dalhousie Journal of Legal Studies, 2017 – 2018
Upper year buddy, Schulich School of Law, 2017 – 2019
Peer educator, Indigenous, Black and Mi'kmaq Initiative, 2017 – 2018
Peer mentor, Schulich School of Law Academic Success Program, 2017 – 2019
Member, Canadian Renewable Energy Association (CanREA), 2023

Accolades

Schulich Scholarship in Law
The Honourable Angus L. MacDonald Prize in Tort Law.
Clifford Rae Achievement Award
John L. Harris Q.C. Memorial Scholarship
Milton & Carole Ehrlich Prize in Law of the Sea Subjects

Thought Leadership

Nova Scotia releases offshore wind roadmap

June 21, 2023

Federal Government introduces amendments to expand the mandates of the two historic Atlantic Accord Acts to include offshore wind energy

June 01, 2023

Nova Scotia setting legislative framework for green hydrogen

October 24, 2022

Federal Government, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland and Labrador clearing the way for offshore wind development

September 29, 2022

Closing Folders: Supporting business continuity during COVID-19

April 07, 2020